ComReg agrees to prices for Partial Private Circuits

The Commission for Communications Regulation (ComReg) has today issued an Information Notice regarding the final details of pricing in relation to Partial Private Circuits (PPCs).

PPCs are an interconnect product which allows other operators to provide leased lines to customers by using eircom's network in conjunction with their own infrastructure.

Partial Private Circuits are important products as they will enhance the development of competition in the leased lines market, in particular, longer leased lines which are of significance for the Regions.

Today's Information Notice signals the agreement to the process charges which support the Partial Private Circuits product range and those charges, along with the product prices which were published on 16 July 2003, have now also been published in the eircom Reference Interconnect Offer on eircom's web-site.
